

PARENT INFORMATION SESSION

How are children taught the craft of writing?

Is learning grammar still important?

How is my child
challenged and supported as a writer?

These are just a few of the many questions asked by parents keen to understand what is happening in today's classrooms. In this information session on current, effective literacy practices in the area of writing, UPS leaders and staff will share the school's strategies for writing improvement, including practical ways you can help at home.
